EXAMINATION ACCOMMODATIONS

Exam accommodations may be approved to reduce or remove barriers as a result of a disability, and/or other protected characteristics listed under Canadian human rights legislation. Accommodations are considered on a case-by-case basis and vary depending upon the barriers identified by the individual challenging the exam.

Candidates must submit their written request along with their application to challenge the COC examination. The request can detail and may include but is not limited to the following items:

- a clear statement of the nature of the disability and its severity;
- a clear and concise description of the accommodation(s) requested;
- supporting documentation, from a healthcare or counseling professional which:
 - indicates an assessment was done on the candidate; and when
 - describes details of the disability including a diagnosis; and it's onset
 - describes the candidate's current functional limitation;
 - any letters of support for the request for specific accommodations made by the candidate

All medical and supporting documentation submitted will be kept confidential by the COC, and will be used for the purpose of assisting the COC in determining the suitable accommodations necessary for the candidate, if any.

The final decision regarding an accommodation request lies with the COC President, in collaboration with the COC Chief Examiner and Exam Committee. In making their decision, the COC must ensure that granting the accommodation request will not compromise the validity and integrity of the certification exam.
